Sun, beach, optimism and good music all come together at the International Music Festival in Oropesa de Mar. Running from 7 to 11 August, this great event features concerts of the best classic and chamber music available over the holiday period, with master classes by renowned international maestros.

Every year the Festival embraces new musical trends, offering an eclectic mix of styles in a varied programme that's sure to appeal to everyone who comes to Oropesa de Mar at this time of year. Top Spanish and international artists will be performing in a varied programme that aims to raise the profile of classical music.

Concerts are free and are held in various locations around the town's old quarter. The wide-ranging programme includes classical and chamber music and fusions of song and jazz.

While you're in Oropesa de Mar, don't miss the vast beaches to the north, the ideal place for practising water sports, plus La Concha bay, with its fine sand and beautiful seafront promenade. On the south side of the town, after the modern yachting marina, the last slopes of the Sierra de Oropesa mountain range reach into the sea, forming an impressive landscape of cliffs and coves surrounded by Mediterranean forest.
